

Ranger Oath/Pledge

I pledge myself to the Club of Rangers. I shalt not speaketh slander to mine elders or founders. I shall not disobey any, or the conicences I shall pay. My elder taketh me into apprenticeship, and I shall respect and obey. If I disobey and strike, the pay is not to be liked. I talketh when needed, not before, and listen attentively to honorable Rangers. I shall stick to the plan, and not make my own strategy. 'To listen is to learn, to keep is to earn.' I shall faithfully practice day by day, to live, to serve, and to fight. I follow the Code, live pure, and always disappear.

If I disobey, I shall be neglected, as a deserter, a traitor. All Rangers have their backs to me till redemption day. Every 2 months a day of redemption is available to the betrayer unless the Collective votes 'nay'. I am to be punished by the worst of sorts if my post I do desert. I shall be sentenced to hard labor, building, and cleaning. If a word of complaint escapes my lips, I shall get double, then quadruple. Of my badge I take greatest care, if I lose it, one strike for me. Yippie.

I won't try to be a hero or show-off. I won't take unnecessary risks. If I do I shall do doo-doo duty. The Collective shall reward me when I am doing something awesome. If there is a tie in the Collective, the founders shall break it if they deem the mind to. If there are less than 4 people in the Collective, you may not refrain from voting.

I shall always keep my oath till I retire, and then follow the Retirement Oath. I shall be punished harshly if I disobey.

(Dramatic emphasis required) I am a Ranger.
